

Individual Benefits

As an AFA member, you will have opportunities to develop leadership skills and confidence by serving in key positions and on committees within your chapter. You will help the Air Force by supporting adequate air power for national defense. You will become more knowledgeable on the issues affecting the Air Force, and your nation's security. If you desire, you will have opportunities to progress to increasing levels of responsibility in the Association.

Other Benefits

Group insurance programs, dental and other medical discount programs, banking center, platinum credit card, online brokerage, travel services, car rental discounts, employment assistance, education assistance, identity protection, electronics products discounts, access to members only online community and more.

www.afa.org

Visit our web site to learn about all the member benefits available to you

Air Force Association
The Force Behind the Force

Questions?

Visit our website at:

www.afa.org

OR...

Contact our
Member Services
Department:
Toll-free
(800) 727-3337

E-mail
service@afa.org

The Force Behind the Force

What's In It
For Me?

The Air Force Reserve

Air Force Reserve

The Air Force Association is an independent nonprofit organization that openly and strongly supports the United States Air Force and its factor in our nation's defense. AFA earns its support from a Total Air Force, including the Air Force Reserve.

AFA is the professional military association of the Air Force Community. As equal partners in the total force, both the Air National Guard and the Air Force Reserve are an integral part of our association. They hold offices, work on committees, and serve at all levels from the top down. In short, AFA's basic mission is focused on national defense. With this as one of its main tasks, AFA strives to deal with matters regarding all Air Force personnel. Specifically, through its Government Relations department, AFA has proven to be a strong voice for the Reservist, heard by the Pentagon and Capitol Hill. Through its monthly publication, Air Force Magazine, and numerous symposia and seminars, AFA has brought the concerns of Reservists into the public eye.

In today's military environment of high operations tempo and increased contingency tasking, civilian employees and members of the Air Force Reserve are being counted on like never before to support the Total Force in accomplishing its mission. This situation has been exacerbated by years of budget cutbacks that have pared the active force down drastically.

Reservists help develop annual policy and guidance for our association by serving in key positions. They also provide input through the Air Force Reserve Advisory Council.

As quoted by the Reserve Council, "The council is an important forum where we can discuss and bring forth to AFA leadership the critical issues affecting the recruiting, retention and readiness of Air Force Reserve members. Composed of members ranging from Senior Airmen to Brigadier General; from varied AFSCs from across the spectrum; and from representatives of many different units and individual mobilization augmentees; the committee has a very diverse background. I feel that we are able to make a difference and that each member can contribute to improve the future of the Air Force Reserve through our Air Force Association membership." This council meets several times during the year to hammer out issues of particular concern to the reserve component of the Air Force. These issues are then addressed in our Annual Statement of Policy and Top Issues.

Benefits of Joining AFA

The magazine has a long and colorful history, having been in existence since before there was either an Air Force or an Air Force Association. Over the decades, AIR FORCE has evolved into one of the world's foremost defense publications.

□ Award winning monthly journal unmatched in total force coverage with up to date editorial comments on issues of the day to include congressional issues and issues concerning space, technology, and military preparedness for our nation.

□ Annual issues of particular importance including an annual "Almanac of the US Air Force," a heavyweight compendium of facts and figures about Air Force people, equipment, budgets, bases organizations, leaders, heroes and a lot more. Each year, the Air Force orders hundreds of extra copies for its personnel to use as basic desk reference.

□ In 2005, AIR FORCE launched its innovative, ground breaking "Daily Report" news product on the AFA website, opening a highly promising venture in the defense information field. It provides a daily (Monday through Friday) roundup of news about the Air Force, airpower, and national defense.

□ Whether the subject is Air Force operations, programs, policies, history, or heroism, AIR FORCE Magazine is widely seen as the trusted authority by the defense community.

AFA Programs and Events of Interest

□ National symposia with key briefings by Air Force leaders.

□ Meetings at local and national levels where AFA speaks out on issues of importance to the Air Force.

□ Housed within AFA, the Eaker Institute is the public policy and research arm of the organization. Activities of the Eaker Institute include advocating for H.R. 758 to establish an interagency aerospace revitalization task force, a new study highlighting the Air Force and the Cold War and the publication of a series of Eaker papers on important defense and aerospace issues.

□ So that we may recognize the best of the best, AFA honors the outstanding achievements of men and women throughout the United States Air Force, government, academia and the aerospace industry with awards, fellowships and scholarship programs. Nominations are solicited by the Air Force, members and leaders of AFA, and other organizations with a deep interest in aerospace activities. A complete list of the awards and recent recipients can be found at www.aafa.org.